Department of Psychology
of Warsaw Management University in Warsaw is pleased to invite you to 3rd International Science Conference: “Values, ideas, emotions in words and images. Changes of contemporary times – modern changes”, which will take place on 20th March, 2021.

Dear Sirs,

Warsaw Management University in Warsaw, Department of Pedagogy and Psychology, Division of Psychology are pleased to invite you to the 3rd International Science Conference: "Values, ideas, emotions in words and images", which will be held on 20th March, 2021 via MsTeams platform. In the dynamic reality in which we operate, we have given it a subtitle that allows us to reflect both traditional perspectives and the changing face of the world that we shape together. We cordially invite representatives of various sciences to join us in creating this cyclical event, sharing the theoretical and empirical contexts that enrich the subject of this year's conference.

In the times of economic and social transformations, the global media storm, information chaos and the crisis of existing civilisation models, the society needs special support from the representatives of science and practitioners of various fields in redefining current problems, analysing and interpreting changes in social reality based on classic and modern perspectives. An additional factor, making the existing structures outdated, is also the global Covid-19 pandemic. On the one hand, it forces immediate changes in the functioning of societies, on the other, it will be the foundation for building a new, still difficult to define, order in the future.

We perceive the eponymous changes in the present as a crisis and we understand them in two ways, as situations that require noticing and describing new problems, but also as an opportunity to release the potential which is the basis for generating positive changes in the world surrounding us. We perceive increasing difficulties and social unrest, leading to divisions whose boundaries are both clear and, often, difficult to define. Consequently, we observe the exclusion of individuals and whole groups, as well as the formation of completely new phenomena of which we are passive recipients or active creators. Simultaneously, violation of routine methods of action reveals progressive attitudes, adaptive behaviour and favourable metamorphoses of existing processes. The aim of our conference is to capture these various contexts of change. We would like the conference to be a platform thanks to which, through the scientific analysis of images and words, we will be able to jointly exchange information, opinions and predictions that will allow us to understand the contemporary world better.

On the website of Warsaw Management University, there is information about the conference and its thematic outline as well as the members of the organizing committee.
